There will be a mass meeting of the Democratic party at Christiansburg, Shelby courty, on Saturday next, the 11th inst. The Hon. C. A. Wickliffe and other dis ringuished speakers will address the people

The Cincinnati Gazette, Republican very black, accuses Seward with joking in his lispatches to foreign countries, and gives an instance. Seward told the French Emperor that if the Southern leaders des're a conference all they had to do was to resume their seats in Congress.

This was a sly way "of inviting them to come and be hanged." That is true. If the South desired to-day to return to the Union the door is shut. They are all to be hange ! or imprisoned, and all their property confiscated. This is the law of Congress. Beside, there is the higher law of the President's procamation that frees all their slaves; and still further, these slaves are to be armed to keep the South in subjection. The authors of such measures are Disunionists. They don't invite all the slaves of the rebellious States. There measures are Disunionists. They don't invite the South back to the Union as it was; but they invite her to accept of hangings, confi cations and proclamations as a substitute for laws and Constitutions. These Disunionis's know that these conditions will be resisted forever; and we have heard no suggestion but force, war, destruction. "Come and be hanged." That is the invitation; and the editor of the Gazette seems pleased that Southern Sena tors can't come back, and amuses himself want the Southern people back in the same Government with themselves. These Southern people are dreadful scare crows. If we don't submit to Abolition practices and purposes we must submit to the Government of these Southern people. That would be very horrible, owing to the awful depravity of these Southern people.

If they are so bad, let them go; the sooner the better; and that is, perhaps, what these political humbuggers mean. We grant that the nitras would make bad Governments, and we don't expect them to make Governments

Our opinion is, there are people that can do better in Government making; that are able to put these ultras where they can do but little harm. They will invite the South back, not to be bung, but to settle this unnatural quat-

The radicals begin to find that the bidding. Some of them see already that the revolution has passed beyond them. Senater-Trumbull has done all in his power to foster the radical spirit; and now he finds the radical spirit beyond his control. His dupes refuse to I'w en to him, and call for Marat Jenison. Titus it ever is. The Dantons are guillotined by the Robespierres. When Danton was in prison, previous to his execution, he exclaimed: "On this very day a year ago I was moving the creation of that same Revolutionary Tribunal-I crave pardon of God and man!" Senator Trambull, like Danton, is condemned by his own tribunal. And, if the radical spirit is all the landed estate is to be forfeited, will it not checked, many of those who are now not all be given to them as its lawful inherite most active in forming "Loyal Leagues" tors? -the committees of Public Safety of our revolution—will find themselves to the most abject poverty, and instead of destroyed by their own weapons. They raising the standard of the "ignorant wh tes," will introduce a "Law of the Suspect;" and will introduce a "Law of the Suspect;" and when they become disgusted with its application they will themselves become "Suspect." They will find themselves under the heel of the most violent "patriot" of their League. "At last," said Danton, "I perceive that in revolutions the supreme power finally rests with the most abandoned." He who speaks of a "Commi tee of Mercy" will find the mercy of a Robespierre. The Robespierre will meet his reward when the people begin to return to

"vigorcus prosecution of the war," for "making the enemy feel the war." By this they meant plundering, burning, and ruin gene rally. "Abolition!" cried the Hop. Thaddeus Stevens; "yes, abolish everything on the face of the earth but this Union; free every slave; slay every traitor; burn every rebel mansion, it these things be necessary to preserve this temple of freedom to the world and to our posterity. Unless we do this we cannot conquer them." The chief cause of the clamor against Gen. Buell was the fact that he protected private property. It is said that this caused he resignation of Colonel Bramlette, the "Union" candidate for the office of Governor of Kentucky being in favor of "vigor." But now, when Colonel Montgomery and his negroes have done just what they were urged to do, the radicals are getting to be very much ashamed. Like Sip, they have opened the gates of hell; but to shut excels their power. The Jenisons, the Lancs, the Montgomerys, have come at their bidding, but not so will they depart. "The Magician's Famulus," says Carlyle, "got hold of the forbidden book and summoned a goblin. Plait-il, what is your will? said the goblin. The Famulus, somewhat struck, bade him fetch water. The swift goblin f tched it, pail in each hand; but lo! would not cease fetching it! Desperate, the Famulus shricks at him, smites at him, cuts him in two; lo! two goblin water-carriers ply; and the house will be swum away in Deu-

Judge Bramlette, as was seen from the tions of the people of the Southern States. On the contrary, if there was an ettempt to inreport of the Commercial, holds that it is just right also to arm them because Jeff. Davis has armed them. This is the position then, we may presume, of the so-called Union Democratic party in this State who claim to be "allies" of the Northern Democracy. Let us see how their declarations will coincide with those of prominent Northern Democrats.

Gov. Seymour, of New York, said upon this The President has already signed an act of Congress which asserts the slaves of those States in rebellion are confiscated. The sole States in rebellion are confiscated. The sole effect of this proclamation, therefore, is to declare the emancipation of the slaves of those who are not in rebellion, and who are, therefore, loyal citizens. It is an extraordinary deduction from the alleged war power, that foreiting the right of loyal citizens, and bringing upon them the same punishment imposed ing up in them the same punishment imposed upon insurgents, and is not calculated to advance the success of the war to uphold the Constitution and restore the Union. May not this measure this measure (the proclamation) be clearly impolitic, unjust, and unconstitutional, and which is calculated to create so many barriers to the restoration of the Union, be misconstrued by the world as an abandonment of the strucd by the world as an abandonment of the hope or the purpose of restoring it, a result to which the State of New York is unafterably opposed, and which will be effectually resistency. We must not only support the Constitution of the United States and maintain the rights of the States, but we must restore the Union as it was before the outbreak of the war.

We suppose Gov. Seymour will be acknowledged as a sound Northern Democrat, and 1: will be seen he scorns to excuse a policy so fruitful of evil, but says bolily it shall be 'successfully resisted." This from a bold, manly Democrat of the North, while a candidate for Governor in this State, which is far more vitally interested, excuses the crime because the rebel President has committed wrongs of

Let us contrast it with the position of his Excellency Gov. Robinson, in his last message to the Legislature. It will be seen that he does not excuse it on any such grounds. He say

After thus disposing of what may be con sidered as especially addressed to Kentucky, I would call your attention to the proclamation of the President, declaring freedom to all slaves in the rebel States, and forbidding the interference of the armies of the United States with any who were endeavoring to apsert their freedom. I have thought it becoming my official sta-tion to say what I have in relation to so much of the proclamation as looked to an admissio or rejection of it by our State. But Kentucky is equally involved in the material branch of the proclamat on which undertakes, by may, without an exaggeration of their numbers, he set down as four millions. So that it is apparent that Kentucky has the large 8: residury interest, supposing that the preclamation is enforced in the Southern Sia es. That the value of this interest must be reduced to nothing by the successful operation of the President's ultimatum interest must be reduced. with the comicality of the suggestion made by Seward.

Our people are still deluded with the idea of the Constitution and they will have nothing to suffer. All a mistake. The Southern people are not asked to submit to the Constitutional confiscation bills and higher law proclamations. They have changed from where they started. It is plain the Abolicion faction do not want them back. We suite the suffers more cover why Mr. Repullette & Constitution for the President in the Constitution of States hold it to be a fundamental doctrine, that the Union, if save at at all, must be saved in con ormity to the Constitution and not in viciation of it. This truth is so clear that argument is superfluous. No one, at all versed in the spirit or the lotter of our institutions, can seriously contend for such powers as the President under-takes to exercise in his proclamation. The assumption of them has alarmed the American mind, and the contemplation of the fe-suit of them has grieved the American heart. Disguise the purpose as you may, it is in truth an inducement to servile insurrection, by giving to it a probability of success in forbidding the army to interfer. I will not pause here to depict the horrors of a servile war—no to depict the horrors of a service war-no imagination can conceive of them—ao pen can paint them. Even the sangulaary Cataline, impressed with the sense of the horrors of a service war, and accupulously regarding the dignity of Roman citizenship, rejected slaves were men of the same generic rost with the Romans, and many of them educated in the arts and arms. This bistoric truth might have been heeded with profit by the President and the force of the important President, and the force of it is immensely increased from the fact that the "Americans demon they invoked will not down at their of Avican descent" are the progeny of a bidding. Some of them see already that the give liberty to four millions of slaves, and that it is effected without servile insurrection, what then is to be done with them? Are they to e permi ted to choose their own domie liation and, if they are, may they not come into Kentucky in vast masses and as effectually destroy the institution here as if our State had not been excepted out of the immediate operation of the manifeste? Most assuredly such would be the result. If the migratory wave comes this way how can it be enecked? According to the President's view it will be an effort at freedom and the army is forbidden to interfere. If on the other hand it is the intention to permit them to remain where the result of the state of the control of the control to permit them to remain where they are, and tors? What then is to become of the white race? Ei her extermination or removal must follow, or if they remain they will be reduced level.

But the saddest and most deplorable effect of the proclamation will be to fire the whole South into one burning mass of inextinguish able hate and study for revenge, and to uterly destroy all hope of restoring the Union. This war was undertaken for that purpose alone—it was to put down the rebellion in order that the ancient limits of the Nation and the interrity of the Constitution might be maintegrity of the Constitution might be main-tained. But what hope can there be of bring-ing about such desirable results, if the attempt is made to strip the entire South bare of all estate—real, personal and mixed? It will produce such a si frit of antago hism—such a fi ree and uncompromising resistance, that no after propositions will be heeded, and will, of necessity, compet the Southern people to fight as those only on fich the best of the state of the necessity, compel the Southern people to figut as those only can fight who fight for their homes and their families and all that makes life dear. And then, too, what a future does it present to the occupants of the Messissippi valley. Of what value will be M:ssissippi valley. Of what value will the use of that great artery of our commerce the use of that great artery of our commerce, when it leads us through desolated fields or to the barren agriculture of a lezy, ignorant race who produce nothing to tempt enterprize, and whose sole idea of liberty is to live without labor? The entire upper region of the Ohio and Mississippi is vitally interwoven in the defeat of this monstrous edict. It will reach to every farm and workshop of that vast region, as it will destroy the best market for whatever the industry of the people might produce. I will not pursue these views any jurther—they are suggestions that must sink deep into the mind of every statesmap.

nation ever presented-Senator Douglas-it will be remembered, when the war was inaupowerful support to the nation in the trying crisis, and by his influence gave unity to the loyal efforts to suppress the rebellion. But he even then foresaw what would be the probable efforts of the radicals in the prosecution of the war, and denounced, in advance, any attemp to exci e servile insurrection. In his speech Springfield on the 27th of April, 1861, just before his death, he said:

I think I can appeal to friend and foe. I use it in a political score, and I trust I use the word foe in a past sense. I can appeal to them with the confidence that I have never pandered to the prejudice or passion of my section against the minority sections of this Urion, and will say to you now, with all frankness, and in all sincerity, that I will never sanction nor acquiesce in any warfare whatever upon the constitutional rights or domestic institu and proper to emancipate the slaves in the Southern territory, because Jeff. Davis has done a number of wrong things, and that it is sirebut himself possess to defend them from sirebut.

These are the opinious of two Democrats and one Old-Lite Whig. It will be seen that they do not excuse the policy of arming the negroes under the plea of military necessity, or defend it on the ground that the leaders of a wicked rebellion have adopted it.

GUERRILLAS IN THE KENTUCKY BORDER COUNTIES - We have information that numer COUNTIES —We have information that numerous small bands of guerrillas have lately crossed from Tennessee into Kentucky, bctween Clarksville and Eddyville, and in the neighborhood of Harpeth Shoals, and are scattered through the counties of Trigg, Caldwell. Christain, Todd, Logan, Muhleuburg, Hopkins, and McLean, doubtless with the design of concentrating in sufficient numbers to make their incursions trapplesome if not to make their incursions troublesome, if not formidable.

We have it from what we deem pretty correct authority, that it is not the design of these guerriles to confine their operations to Kentucky, but to extend their depredations lito the border counties of Indiana, and to thus occupy the attention of the militia and such regiments as may be stationed along the river, while the rebel army advances into Ken tucky in the direction of Louisville and Lex-

At present these guerrillas are scattered about the section of country lying between Green and Barren rivers and the Cumberland; but it will be the work of but a day or two for them to concentrate and present a formidable array of strength at any designated point. And this is doubtless the programme marked out by them. There is no lack of evidence that bold and rapid raids are now the order of exercises with the rebel authorities. Hinds' recent operations, late attacks by small bodies f mounted men on the main line and the Memphis branch of the Lousville and Nash-ville Railread, and on the Louisville and Frankort Road, the raid into Indiana, and the known presence of small reconnoitering squads along the river, all go to prove that muschief is designed, and its execution may e looked for at any time.-[N. A. L. dger.

These guerrillas, now in Kentucky, are evidently indigenous to the soil. There are bands in almost every county, who follow the business of robbers, like banditti, for mere private gain, under real or pretended Confederate officers. They are guerrillas to-day and private citizens to-morrow—as suits their convenience. But there is little doubt that an or believe in anything be cannot be a contracted by the contraction of th onvenience. But there is little doubt that an invasion by the rebel army in force is intended, and the Kentucky Secessionists, as well as the Unionists, will find that they will have to pear their share of the losses and horrors that

The bait was large and don't bite at the showiest fly. He wanted to know what authority Mr. C. had to speak for he Abolitionists! Kentucky had 236,167 colored people, and could have sent 25,000 more. With these sixty thousand men, well drilled, and well led, Lee's invasion would have been impossible. RICH .- It seems that one M. D. Conway, who not long ago dispensed with the Gos; el in Cincinnati, and who is now one of the editors of the Boston Commonwealth, is now in England as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Abolitionists. He at once opened a correspondence with that other Extraordinary Envoy of Seces ion Mr. Mason, on the subject of emancipation of negroes, which seems to be the chief end of the bolitionists. It appears to be unfortunate that Mr. Conway had forgotten his credentials. The New York Tribune thus tells the story : Par Nobile Fratrum.

Conway-Mason.—Mr. James M. Mason is an old Virginia gentleman, having his resi-dence near Winchester, whence his slaves ran away a year or more sgo, but he is temporarily lodging at London, where he hopes to be one day received as Embassador from the man-stealer's Confederacy. Mr. Moneure D. Connot believe in anything he cannot bite.

Mr. Mason having gone to London as an nuacknowledged Embassador, Mr. Conway ollowed as an amateur in the same line, and has been spending some time in England in that capacity. And as neither he nor Mason had any recognized function as a negotiator, had any recognized function as a negotiator, the bright thought appears to have struck him that, though they could not negotiate with anybody else, they readily might with each other. So he set about it. And in order to have a power behind him, Mr. C. introduced himself to Mr. M. as a representative of the Abolitionists, just as Mr. Mason is of the insurant slaveholders.

We most heartly concur with Gen. Wilcox in advising the disbandment of all secret political societies. They are heatle, one and all, to republican institutions. What cannot bear the light of day in a popular Government should receive no encouragement. It is man-ly in a free Government for each citizen to straint. No good citizen should have any concealments upon public affairs. When we cannot openly express our convictions of public duty we shall be prepared to surrender to a despotism, whatever may be its character, but never will we entertain sentiments upon questions of public policy which we cannot express in the light of a noonday sun.

Rebel Iron-Clad Destroyed-Fright- Chase and Capture of a Hippopota-

[From the Detroit Free Press, of June 23.] A very exciting as well as novel affair occur e i about six miles down the river on Monday ternoon, being no less than a veri able chas of a hippopotamus. It seems that in the ransit of the circus from Buffalo to this city it became necessary, on account of their excessive weight, to send the elephants and the hippopotamus on a propeller.

The huge behemoth or hippopotamus was shipped from Buffilo on board the steamer S. D. Caldwell, and as it was impossible to get his immense cage on board, that was sent by land. The heast was accompanied by Ali the en shore.

Everybody rushed to the spot. The place where the hippopotamus had been confined was empty. The truth became instantly apparent. The beast, no longer able to resist the temptation, had burst his bonds and plunged into the river, resoived on an aquatic excursion. The owner, who was on board, which at the picture of despair. Forty thousand was empty. The truth became instantly apparent. The beast, no longer able to resist the temptation, had burst his bonds and planged into the river, resolved on an aquatic excursion. The owner, who was on board, looked the picture of despair. Forty thousand dollars, to say nothing of a large amount of prospective profits, flad suddenly vamosed. As for Ali, the Egyptian keeper, he was nearly frantic. He tore his hair and project to his strange gods. range gods.

In a few moments, however, the monstrous head of the huge beast appeared above the surface of the water. A general shout arose and Ali was with difficulty prevented from umping overboard in pursuit of his companion and beloved pet, while a boat was lowered into which he jumped and rowed towards the peast, who swam about in an ecstasy of delight.

The Egyptian commenced calling him by amiliar names, and at the sound of his voice familiar names, and at the sound of his voice the monster stopped, looked around, and seemed to wait for the boat to near him, but just as it approached within reaching distance the hippopo amus gave a plunge and once more disappeared, leaving a whirlpool of seetsing water to mark the spot where he had gone down.

Nothing was seen of him now for a long time, and they were about giving him up for lost, when he suddenly made his appearance about one hundred yards off, but nearer the shore than at first. All again rowed towards him, calling to him as before, but again the beast dodged him, and dove to the bottom of the river. All now made a large circuit with the river. All now made a large circuit with his boat, in hopes of taking him by surprise as he came up to breathe, but, as if aware of his intentions, the hippopotamus rose at a long distance off and looked at his master cunning-'No you don't.

For the third time Ali started in pursuit with a result similar to that which had attended his other attempts to recepture his pet. When he went down the third time Ati aused, evidently completely non-plussed, and seemingly overcome by grief and despair. In a second, however, he scized the oars and rowed toward the steamer. "Fry e tog," he shouted, as he came along side; gib me de tog!" A large black mastiff, which has been trained to sleep in the cage of the hippopotamus, and for whom he has for along time evinced much affection, had been keeping up a continued howling from the time his companion had escaped, was now loosened, and he instantly plunged into the river and swam after Ali as he moved off.

In about a minute the hippopotamus again stuck his huge head out of the water, and on seeing him the dog gave a wild bark and swam in his direction very rapidly, Ali accompanying him in the boat. At last the dog reached the monster, and with a series of barks, commenced swimming round the animal, and finally struck out for the shore, the hippopotatus following.

The interest excited by this scene was intense, which continued until the dog and hir opotamus reached the American shore i Egyptian; armed with a small rawhide, which he had taken with him, jumped on the beach, and, going to the animal, spoke a few words in the Egyptian tongue, gave him a few smart to a place of safety, where he was at once so cured and the proper means adopted to have him brought to this city, where he now is, in fine condition, after his frolic beneath the

Speaking further of the policy of concentration, the Post makes the following

"The most skillful and energetic General that ever lived is liable to be worsted by cir-cumstances; the merest accident may embar-rass his plans, and unforeseen incidents deprive him of the fruits of victory itself. Hook-er, with every prospect of success, was yet compelled to retire from Chancellorsville; McClellan gained nothing by the rout of the enemy at Antietam. Yet, if either of them had been furnished with proper supporting forces-fresh men to go into the combat when the foe was corn out, or to pursue him on the retreat—both coasions might have been turned into splendid

This is an important admission, coming from a paper which has taken the lead in persistent and shameless detraction of McClellan If that General was prevented from following the enemy immediately after the Antie am victory by the exhaustion of his army and the bsence of fresh troops, why have the Post and its radical contemporaries invariably attributed McClel'an's delay either to inefficiency or his treasonable sympathie 'What the Post now states is the simple fact, well known to radical politicians for political purposes. If this is the cannot learn when they will be. If this is the case even with one regiment, it is a crime for which some one should be held to a fearful reckoning. Every soldier who serves out his term of enlistment should be discharged at the earliest moment thereafter, and should always be paid in full when discharged. It is easy to devise excuses for delay, but there is no good in them. Every dollar thus withheld from a discharged soldier is lifeblood wrung from the heart of the nation. We want these trained and tested soldiers to serve further; and paying them promptly, cheerfully, amply, and ing them promptly, cheerfully, amply, and dismissing them with a word of thanks and blessing, is the sure way to secure their reenlistment when required, and their influence Whose business is it to see that every regi-ment is mustered out as promptly as possible, and never mustered out without being paid? GENERAL BUTLER CHASTISED,-The Boston Courier gives the following account of the physical chastisement of General Butler by a laboring man of Lowell:

Mr. Russell, who is a mason, in Lowell, was employed by a Mr. Eastman, the agent of Gen. Butler, to lay the pipes in a drain which Eastman had dug on the General's premises. The laying of the pipes was nearly completed, one only of the sections lying by the side of the treych. At this time Gen. B. come towards. Mr. Russell and ordered him to remove a large stone within the side of the drain, and some stone within the side of the drain, and some distance beneath the surface of the ground, saying it would interfere with the plow. To this Mr. Russell of jected, a sing that it was his business to key the pipes, and not to dig the drain, which had been prepared for his work by Mr. Eistman. Thereupon, Gen. B., with violent and profane language, ordered him to leave his premises. Mr. Russell said he was employed by another person, and did not look to him for his pay, and should finish his work. Gen. B. then kicked the section of the pipe late the drain, which Mr. Russell the pipe leto the drain, which Mr. Russell picked up and placed again into its former position. Repeating the offensive language, Gen. B kicked the pipe over again, and as Mr. Russell was attempting to replace it, he received a violent blow in the face. We understand that, subsequently, Gen. B. alleged this to be an accident, but the statements upon the other side do not correspond with that view of the case. Mr. Russeil immediately jumped from the ditch and as quickly Gen. B. was flat upon the ground and Mr. Russeil had him by the throat and held him there. Gen. B. is alleged to have made nore-sistance: but after hobiting him as long as he sistance; but after holding him as long as he thought neccessiry, Mr. Russell allowed him to rise and accompanied him a hundred rods

We learn that Mr. Russell told the General that he was an old man, over sixty years of age, and had never before been assailed in this way; that the General must remember he was in Massachusetts, not New Orleans, and that suen conduct as his would not be tolerated on New England soil. He also told him it was no wooder we were beaten by the rebels, when such officers led our men; that, for his own part, he was the grandson of a revolutionary patriot, who was kulled by the British in his patriot, who was killed by the British in his own hous: (at L xington), and he himself and the other descendants of that man had been true to their Democratic principles. Reminding the General of his action at the harkston Convention and of his political tergiversations in general, Mr. Russell then left him.

Gloomy Appearance of Things in Banks' Department.

The New Orleans correspondent of the New There is no disguising the fact that matters look gloomy enough in this department. A month since everything presented the appearance of a short and brilliantly successful campaign, and a certainty almost of Louisiana being restored to the Union, if not by the act of its citizens, by the force of the Union arms of its citizens, by the force of the Union arms.

Now everything presents a contrary appearance. The capture of Port Hudson appears to be indefinitely postponed—if it will be taken at all. The Attakapas country is reoccupied by the enemy in force; the Opelousas Rullroad has been seized, and our forces at Brashear City out off; the west heads of the Misser. shear City cut off; the west bank of the Mis sissippi is lined with armed rebels, and every boat that now runs between this city and Baton Rouge has to be armed; the last regiment has arrived that can be drawn from an part of the department, and the hospitals are filled with sick and wounded. Such is the outline of affairs here. More could be said, but it would be contraband. The question may be asked, why is this so? It must be re membered that the majority of the regiments composing the Banks Expedition were nine months' men; they left the North in Novem ber last after seven or eight weeks of their term of enlistment had expired; they were comparatively green troops, requiring much "setting up" before they could be of use in the field. The regiments that Gen. Banks found al strength of Port Hudson has never been properly understood. It is a Gibralter, or rather a halakoff; and yet General Banks has been expected to take it by assault, without any previous bombardment or seige. Vicksburg is no stronger than Port Hudson in its natural as well as artificial defenses; it I am to-day more than ever inclined to think that General Banks will be compelled to fall back on Baton Rouge, if not upon New O:-leans and the surrounding defenses. A correspondent says that as far as New Orleans is concerned, the city is secure. The guns of the fleet command the city, and Gen. Emery has disposed his command, so that he can effectually defend every point.

From Port Hudson there is nothing important. The bombardment continues, and another assault was expected on the 27th. [Special to the Herald.]

SHIPPENSBURG, July 3.

All of Lee's forces are concentrating near Gettysburg. Suart's cavalry was on its way there yesterday. Lee's forces, except a guard, have left Greencastle. All quiet at Carlisle. The enemy is falling back. Chambersburg The enemy is falling back. Chambersburg was not burned. A building belonging to the railroad was destroyed.

The report of the death of Longstreet, brought by rebel prisoners yesterday, is confirmed by prisoners taken this morning.

Longstreet's and Hill's corps are said to be fighting on the right and Ewell's in front.

One thousand and six hundred prisoners, thus far, have been sent to the rear.

alloping back as we advanced. On passing out of the west end of the town, the enemy was observed advancing rapidly from Chambersburg turnpike, in line of battle, toward the town, evidently endeavoring to hold an advantageous position commanding the town. One thousand and six hundred prisoners, thus far, have been sent to the rear.

The Washington Star has the following:

Major-General Sigel has been ordered to report to General Couch, at Harrisburg, for duty.

Frem private letter from Norfolk, dated ist, we learn that some twelve or fi ten hundred rebels have made their app arance in position, and for some time quite a heavy battle raged. Several charges were made by the enemy to dislodge our forces, all of which were unsuccessful.

At 3 o'clock the enemy moved his entire force and endeavored to turn our right wing.

Supposed, of making a raid into Nor'ok. Considerable excitement is represented as ex isting in Norfolk in consequence.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.

A special d'spatch to Forney's Press, dated Habover, 1 P. M., via Washington, 3d, says this merning our forces opened on 5,000 rebels who acvanced on the field at daybreak, for the purpose of pil aging our dead. The fight thus far has been the most ferrific of the war, and the loss on both sides is heavy. A desperate battle rages,

Latest official information received from a Gen. Meade, is up to 12 30 Friday noon, all quiet up to that hour. Considerable firing so both of artillery and infantry had taken place at various parts of our line up to that time; and several hundred prisoners had been taken since morning. WASHINGTON, July 4-10 A M. The following has just been received: HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, NEAR GETTYSBURG, July 3-8:30 P. M.

To Major-General Halleck: The enemy opened at one P. M. from about one hundred and fifty guns, concentrated upon my left, continuing, without intermission, for about three hours, at the expiration of which time he assaulted my left and center twice, being upon both occasions handsomely re-pulsed, with severe loss to him—leaving in our hands nearly three thousand prisoners. Among the prisoners is Brigadier General Armistead, and many Colonels and officers of lesser rank.

The enemy left many dead upon the field and a large number of wounded in our hards. The loss on our side has been considerable. Major Gen. Hanccck and Brig. Gen. Gibbon were wounded. After the repelling of the assault, indications leading to the belief that the enemy might be withdrawing, an armed reconnoissance was pushed forward from the left, and the enemy found to be in force. At the present hour all is quiet.

The New York cavalry have been engaged all day on both flanks of the enemy, harrassing and vigorously attacking him with great success, notwithstanding they en-

The President announces to the country that the news from the army of the Potomac up to 10 P. M. of the 3d is such as to cover the army with the highest honor and promise a great success to the cause of the Union, and to claim the condolence of all for the many gallant fallen; and that for this he especially desires on this day that He whose will no ours should ever be done be everywhere remembered and revered with the profoundes gratitude [Signed]

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, July 4.—3 a. m. The enemys guns opened on our left wing

The enemys guns opened on our left wing at day light, apparently to feel our position, but soon suspended operations, they also endeavored to push forward their front on our right but were driven back with loss.

LATER—9:40 A. M.—Au hour ago the enemy made a strong infinitry attack on our right, and endeavored to break our line. The Twelfth corps, which formed our right, steadily drove them back for half an hour, when the enemy was re-sufferced, and a porwhen the enemy was re-enforced, and a por-tion of the Sixth corps was sent to its support. Failing in this, the enemy opened a cannon-

The attack on the right is believed to have been a feint to cover a more formidable flank movement on the left.

The cannonading is now heavy in that direction, and appears to be extending.
The Third corps suffered greatly yesterday. The number of wounded is heavy, with a large number of cfficers. No estimate can be tormed of the killed at the present writing.
The heavy musketry is opened on our right again. Cannonading on our left is slackening. The enemy is fighting with the greatest desperation. Nothing can surpass the vigor and precision of our artillery.

but the division of Humphreys, I think, ral-lied and recaptured them. We took one from the enemy. Comparative'y few prisoners have been taken on either side up to this hour.

10:90 A. M — The cannonaging has slackened.
Rebel prisoners say when their infantry charged our left-wing battery yesterday, the massagre was beyond parallel. Some of the guns were masked, and did not open until the enemy was within canister range.

NASHVILLE, July 4. The anniversary of our independence was celebrated to day by a procession of two reg-ments and citizens in carriages horseback, &c. Salutes were fired in the morning, noon tack by artillery on our left and center. The tactics of the enemy were soon apparent; they massed their main strength on our left flank, which covered the Frederick road, with the determination to crush it. So intent was the enemy on this purpose that every other part of the line was left alone. The fighting was most desperate on both sides.

We had against this great englagest of the sides.

We had against this great englagest of the sides. Speeches also by Hon. Russell Houston and others. Music by the band, and glee clubs' festivities kept up until a late hour. It is very quiet in the city. No fireworks are al lowed, by order of the commander of the post.

Several steamers laden with army supplies feet water on the shoals, and still rising. A large number of prisoners arrived from the front. About eight hundred more are at Murfreesboro en route for Nashville. Several hundred are to be sent to Louisville. The train from Louisville has not yet arrived. HARRISBURG, July 4. The best informed parties at headquarters are in excellent spirits at the news received from Meade.

The bat le is still in progress.

A gentleman who left bridge No. 84, Northern Central railroad, at 3 o'clock this morning heard firing. It was also heard in Harrisburg for about half an hour.

All quiet in our immediate front. The rebels are supposed to have left this immediate neighborhood entirely.

"Col. Fred. Taylor, brother of Bayard Taylor, was killed.
"Gen. Hancock was shot through the groin. "Gen. Gibbons was badly wounded.

"We drove the enemy yesterday a mile, and captured fifteen hundred more prisoners. The world never saw such fighting. "The rebel loss is estimated at four thou-"Everything looks encouraging." NEW YORK, July 4.

The following is the latest Herald special:

Bultimore, June 3d-10 A. M —A special messenger from Gen. Meade to Gen. Schenck brings news from Gettysburg up to 1 o'clock this evening. Gen. Meade had driven the reb-els four miles north and west from their posi-tion of yesterday, and was still following. We have taken fitteen hundred prisoners and they are on their way to this city. The v.cinity is undoubtedly ours.

BALTIMORE, July 4. Reports, deemed reliable, from the battle field down to six o'clock last evening, repre-sent that the rebels were repeatedly repulsed, with fearful slaughter. The battle lasted all day. One thousand prisoners were taken.

NEW YORK, July 4. Accounts from New Orleans state that the rebels now occupy the whole of the Lafourche country, and communication between New Orleans and Berwick Bay is destroyed. [Special to the Tribune.]

REAPER.

THIS MACHINE WEIG.IS 800 POUNDS, CUTS 6% FEET WIDE. AND EROM 4 TO 24 INCHES HIGH. IT IS OF LIGHT DRAFT AND WITHOUT APPARENT the searing and boxes convenient for oiling and adjusting. The driver i sea the properties are to the Machine. This lessens the weight and leaves all the searing is all secured in an iron frame; the bearings are long and secure from dirt. With care this part of the Machine will last for many rears, about as easy as upon the ordinary low-cut Machine, which are to capable of doing over one-held the area of the straw, and the forker lays off the grain in perfect bundles, highest cut can be made by two persons in one minute. Farmers who usually have to sperd a half hour in making this change, will appreciate this imprevement. A leverage the tongue of the frame, to give the platform the proper inclination. The Machine is perfectly balanced. There is no weight upon the lorses' necks again. PRICE, AT LOUISVILLE, $120 CASH.

Cash Fund belonging to the members insured $9,250,000.

All the profits are divided on the mutual system every five years among the memoers insured.

The business of this Company is conducted exclusively on the Cash plan. No notes whatever are received for premiums, or paid back on claims f r losses. The accumulations or dividends may be applied to ince ase the amount insured under the policy, or in an annual deduction from the premium. In the first instance, many cases are on record where the amounts originally in sured have been more than doubled by the accumulations or dividends, and in the second, the annual reduction granted by the Company is LARGER THAN THE ANU AL PREMICK; in ofther words, that the policy has been entire y paid up for the original amount, and the policy holder, instead of paying any premium to the Company, is actually in receiver of an anxiory to be still further increased by future dividends), amounting to several huadred doilars, for the remainder of life.
